

Here is our prayer for the week. I invite you to contemplate it daily:

“Dance as though no one is watching. Love as though you have never been hurt before. Sing as though no one can hear. Live as though heaven is on earth.”

God is Infinite and Divine power that fuels the universe. God is all there is, and everywhere present.

I am one with this Power, Presence, the Infinite nature of God. I know that the Divine Spirit is operating through me.

I know that I am not limited by anything that has happened or is happening now. Every moment is a new beginning. I realize I am the messenger for the Infinite, and I am here to express love, joy, beauty, and peace. I am the Infinite expression in a human body. I open my heart and mind to my inherit and divine creative power. I allow my passion to rise within me, spilling into every moment of my life. I live passionately, recognizing the beauty of each experience. I feel calling to live as my authentic self. I consciously step in my authenticity, into my passion. Life is unlimited, and I celebrate every day with joy and gratitude knowing I have been given extraordinary gift, the power of my thoughts, to create life of love, joy, beauty, and peace.

I am grateful for this knowing.

With profound gratitude and joy, I surrender my word to the Law that creates, the Law that always says “Yes”. Knowing it is so, right here and right now, I allow it to be. And so it is!
