

July 18, 2021

Here is our prayer for the week. I invite you to contemplate it daily:

Waking up this morning I smile. Twenty-four brand new hours are before me. I vow to live fully in each moment and to look at all beings with eyes of compassion.

-Thich Nhat Hanh

Today we join together in the knowing that all life, all creation, and all thought is God. There is only one Truth, and that is that all is God without separation or limitation. Life is God expressing itself in terms of creation.

I am, and we all are one with God. God knows our truth. God knows we have no limitation. We live as creation without separation. We are part of the Whole.

I know of and for our community that we express the divine in newer and greater ways. We hear the lessons, and now we move forward in life with new ideas. We have our practices, and now we embrace our lives as creative masterpieces. We express our new thoughts easily and effortlessly. Today we choose love for all. We do not separate anyone or anything from ourselves, instead choosing to see the unity in all life. Our community is exceptional because we choose to embrace the wisdom that all people are one with Love and all are magnificently expressing God in their perfection. We choose to see that God is present in every person and every idea.

I feel deep gratitude for everyone that is here today. We choose a new way to move in life, and I'm grateful to walk this path with you. Thank you God for illuminating a new path filled with Life's gifts.

I release these words here and now, knowing that as I spoke them they were already made manifest in Spirit... AND SO IT IS

Kyle Moore, RScP